

Episode #13 – Managing People with Natasha Hawker

In this episode we chat about people with Natasha Hawker – author of “From Hire to Fire and Everything in Between” and Founder of Employee Matters – an organisation that works with SMEs to help them grow their businesses faster than ever before through their employees.

Natasha has worked as an independent HR contractor and in HR consulting roles for major organisations including Accenture.

Natasha has a passion for help business owners solve the three major problems they have with people, namely:

1. They don't know how to hire the best employees
2. They can't afford nor do they need full time help with their employees but they do need help at times and they struggle to be legally compliant
3. They don't know how to fire non-performing employees without the risk of getting sued

There are some real gems of advice in this interview including how to build your own interview skills to identify top talent; how to onboard and manage people properly; and how to exit them properly too.

I got a lot out of our discussion and I know you will too.

If you want to contact Natasha and her team, you can visit their website here:

www.employeematters.com.au

Where you'll find a range of tips and advice as well as services to suit any size business.

And you can also connect with Natasha on LinkedIn here

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/natashahawker/>

For more information on your host Hunter Leonard or Silver & Wise:

Hunter Leonard <https://www.linkedin.com/in/hunter-leonard/>

Silver & Wise silverandwise.com.au